OXFORDSHIRE.

NOTICE is hereby given, That the General Quarter Sessions of this County are adjourned to THIS DAY, Saturday, August 1, 1801, at Noon, to the Castle Gaol, in Oxford, to be then and there held for the Purpose (amongst other Things) of executing the Powers and Authorities of the Act of Parliament passed in the last Sessions, for the Relief of certain Insolvent Debtors.

TAUNTON, Clerk of the Peace.

RIVER THAME.

NOTICE is hereby given, That the next Court of Sewers for the Level of the River Thame, in the Counties of Oxford and Bucks, will be holden at the Red Lion Inn, in Thame, on Tuesday the 4th Day of August next, at Eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon.

Thame, By Order of the Commissioners,
30th July, 1801. JOHN HOLLIER, Clerk.

WANTED, on a Job, — A sober steady Man, of light Weight, to ride and drive, who understands how to take proper Care of a Coach and a Pair of Horses, at a Watering Place.

Apply to Mrs. Jones, at the Printing Office, in the High Street, Oxford.

WILTSHIRE.

SHORTLY will be SOLD by AUCTION, at Highworth, in Lots,—An improveable FREEHOLD ESTATE, situate at Broad Blunsdon, in the Parish of Highworth, Tithe free, on Payment of 1s. 9d. per Acre, in the Occupation of DANIEL HALL, as Tenant at Will; consisting of a Farm House, Barn, Stable, and other requisite Erections, and 158A. 2R. 19P. of inclosed Arable, Meadow, and Pasture Land, of which 17A. 1R. 20P. are Meadow and Pasture.

Further Particulars may be known by Application to William Ward, jun. Solicitor, Faringdon.

City of Oxford, July 27, 1801.

LAST Wednesday Night, the 22d Instant, between Twelve and One o'Clock, a Man carrying a Bundle down the High Street, upon being accosted near Mr. Cutler the Corner's, by the Watchman of St. Mary's Parish, threw it down, and ran away. The Bundle was taken Care of by the Watchman, and contains sundry Parcels of Men's and Women's Gloves, and a Quantity of Sewing Silk.

As there seems little Doubt but that this Property was stolen, any Person having lost such Goods is desired to apply at the Town Clerk's Office, and upon proving the Ownership, and paying all Expences, they will be restored to him. By Order of the Magistrates,

TAUNTON, Town Clerk.

Society for protecting Persons and Property against Thieves and Robbers.

RICHARD BIGNELL, Treasurer.

Saturday's Post. By Express.

LONDON, July 31.

YESTERDAY arrived Paris Journals to the 27th inclusive. A telegraphic dispatch from Brest announces that the Jason English frigate, of 36 guns, has been lost on the French coast in the Bay of St. Malo. The French account mentions no particulars. There is no doubt that the crew were saved, though it is not mentioned by the enemy. The Jason is commanded by Captain Ballard, and though the French statement said to be 40 guns, is only of thirty-six.

The Spanish Government have announced the treaty of Badajos as to be carried into effect—a circumstance which would not have been done had it been known, as it must, that Bonaparte refused to ratify it. Olivenza and the territory ceded to Spain have been taken possession of.—The military preparations along the Flemish coast are continued with undiminished activity. A corps of 1200 light cavalry, for some secret expedition, has been lately selected from the troops at Brussels; and Carnot, Inspector-General of Engineers, the brother of the Ex-Director, has inspected Bruges, Ostend, and Nieuport.

The Madrid Gazette Extraordinary of the 8th of July announces the conclusion of Peace at Badajos, to which place his Most Catholic Majesty and the Queen of Spain have repaired, in order to take formal possession of the Portuguese province of Olivenza, which is ceded to Spain by that Treaty.—The Articles of the Convention have not yet been made public; but it is probable that means have been found to procure the ratification of the French Government, without which it seems highly improbable that their Catholic Majesties would have dared to proclaim it by a Gazette Extraordinary.

A letter from the North of Germany says, that the Regency of Hanover have dispatched a courier to England, for the purpose of soliciting his Majesty to demand the instant evacuation of that Electorate by the Prussian troops.

Letters from our fleet blockading Brest, state, that the Brest fleet appears to be ready for sea, and that troops are embarked on board the ships. Letters from Paris say that the French Government has ratified the Treaty with the United States of America, agreeably to the wish of Congress.

A large fleet of gun-boats, bombs, fire-ships, galeres, and other small ships of war, is assembling at Deal; and in a short time Lord Nelson will make the experiment how far it is practicable to save the French the trouble of coming into the English shores to fight us, by attacking them in their own ports. Boulogne will be bombarded, if possible, and every exertion made to the British intrepidity to burn and destroy the shipping in that port. A vast force will be employed, and the attack will be terrible. Colonel Stewart, of the 49th, who was with Lord Nelson in the Baltic, accompanies him on this enterprise. The enemy will be taught the danger not merely of invading, but of threatening to invade this country.

It was considered at the Hague, on the 17th, as certain, that the indemnities of the House of Orange had been finally settled at Berlin; and that the Prince of Orange will make a formal renunciation of the Stadtholdership, when the Prussian troops in Franconia shall have taken possession of the States assigned to him.

In the late gallant action in Camaret Bay, Lieutenant Sinclair, of the marines, was killed, defending a Midshipman of the Doris, who was wounded in two places, while endeavouring to get on board the corvette. So desperate an undertaking has hardly been attempted during the war, as the ship lay under the guns of a very strong battery, but fortunately all the shot passed over her, so that the boats were not much annoyed by them. The ship has on board a great quantity of flores for Senegal, and not, as was stated, Guadaloupe, to which place she was ordered to sail. Many of the English sailors had their arms cut off by the Frenchmen's tomahawks, when endeavouring to board.

TO THE FREEMEN
OF THE
CITY OF OXFORD.

GENTLEMEN,

IMPRESSED with Gratitude for your generous and friendly Reception of me, I thus publicly return you my SINCERE THANKS.—Believe me, nevertheless, Gentlemen, that the firm, manly, and honourable Determination you have unanimously expressed to exercise your ELECTIVE FRANCHISE FREELY and INDEPENDENTLY, and to surrender your Judgments and Voices to no Man, affords me a still more lively Satisfaction than I could possibly derive from the many personal Favours conferred on me, however great.—So dignified an Example will, doubtless, be looked up to and followed by every free Boty of Men within the Realm.—The Numbers, the Knowledge, and the Virtue of the FREEMEN OF THIS CITY, will add to the Weight and Authority of the Example, and will prove one of the most effectual Causes of a general Return of free and independent Men to reprefent this Great Empire in Parliament, on whose Wisdom the Salvation of the People will for Ages depend. I am, Gentlemen,

Your obliged and obedient Servant,
JOHN INGRAM LOCKHART.

TO THE
WORTHY AND INDEPENDENT FREEMEN
OF THE
CITY OF OXFORD.

A Canvass having unexpectedly commenced a few Days ago, and since, more unexpectedly, been permitted, in for a Representative for this City in Parliament, when no Idea was entertained that the Parliament would be put an End to before its natural Period of Dissolution, or that either of the present Members would resign, it is earnestly hoped that no one will PROMISE his VOTE or INTEREST, without the utmost Caution and Deliberation, upon a Point so essential to himself individually, and much more so to the general Interests, Prosperity, and Peace of the City at large.

A FREEMAN.
