CHARLES POPE

RESPECTFULLY informs the Nobility, Gentry, and the Public, that the above INN has recently gone under a thorough repair, and is fitted up in such a manner as to afford the most comfortable accommodation to those who may honour him with their favours.

C. P. hopes that the expensive improvements made in the house, and the amendment and comfort of a change of furniture, beds, &c. will infure a continuance of its old cuftom; and that the fame objects, combined with his earneft endeavours to give fatisfaction to thofe who may honour him with their commands, will be thought to merit the attention and patronage of the public in general.

Gentlemen Travellers may rely on having excellent beds, and the beft accommodation of every kind.

C. P. has laid in a ftock of choice Wines and Spirits.

SATURDAY'S POST.

BY EXPRESS.

LONDON, September 8.

YESTERDAY difpatches were received from Lord Wellington; they are dated the 21ft ult. from Truxillo. It appears that our army had been extremely diftreffed for want of provifions, and his Lordfhip was therefore obliged to fall back, and was on the road to Elvas. There had been no appearance of the enemy, who, it feems, had not paffed the Tagus, except with a body of cavalry, near Arzobifpo, which took the cannon of Cuefta's rear-guard. The enemy's army had feparated. Soult's was at Placentia; Ney was gone back to Salamanca; Mortier, Victor, and Sebaftiani, in Eftramadura and La Mancha.

Sir Robert Wilfon had engaged, with his fmall corps, Ney's army on its return from Salamanca, near Banos. After nine hours gallant conteft, he was obliged to retire through the mountains—his corps behaved with great gallantry. Gen. Cuefta refigned the command on the 12th, and was fucceeded by General Equiri.

The Comus floop of war has arrived from Lifbon, at Falmouth, with a fleet of merchantmen and tranfports. The letters from Corunna and Ferrol confirm the accounts before received, that at the latter place they were bufy getting the men of war ready for fea; but they add that at Ferrol they were under great apprehenfions that a ftrong French force would foon pay them a vifit, for the purpofe of again taking poffeffion of the town, the harbour, and arfenal. This apprehenfion had the good effect to accelerate the equipment of the fhips, which were working out, in order to be removed to Cadiz. The news of the retreat of the combined army, after the battle of Talavera, had fpread a great degree of confternation at Ferrol, Corunna, and Lifbon. The waite of time and the want of energy on the part of the Spanifh Rulers had damped the hopes of many of the Patriots, and filled their minds with gloomy forbodings of a fatal termination to the conteft in which they are engaged. The beft informed merchants in that quarter, and many of the Britifh officers, confider the caufe of the lethargic Spaniards as abfolutely hopelefs.

Hamburgh and Altona Papers, received laft night, to the 30th ult. contain nothing decifive on the fubject of peace between France and Auftria. A great number of reports prevailed upon the Continent, amongft which it was faid that a very ferious misunderftanding had broken out between Napoleon and Alexander refpecting Gallicia and Turkey, that Bonaparte had demanded the ceffion of a confiderable portion of the Pruffian territories, including Berlin, Stettin, &c. and that Pruffia was to be indemnified by the ceffion of Auftrian Silefia. It was added, that the Pruffian army had received orders to hold itfelf in readinefs to march, and that a more intimate connection between Ruffia and Pruffia was talked of at Berlin. Thefe rumours form the fubjects of chit-chat in Germany, and have no other foundation than conjecture.

The intelligence from Vienna in thefe papers is of the 17th ult. Nothing material appears then to have occurred. General rumour had affigned Bohemia to the Grand Duke of Wurtzburgh, who was to join the Confederation of the Rhine as King of Bohemia.

The brave Tyrolcans ftill held out, and baffled every attempt to conquer them.

The Unite, the Thames, and the Renomme, have arrived at Portfmouth from the Straits. The letters from Gibraltar are of the 14th laft, and ftate, that the Toulon fleet was ready for fea. In confequence of this intelligence, two additional men of war had proceeded from Gibraltar to reinforce Lord Collingwood, who was off Toulon, with his fleet, watching the motions of the enemy. The fame letters inform us, that the Algerine cruifers were out in great numbers in the Mediterranean, but no accounts had been received of their having as yet offered any moleftation to Britifh fhips.

Letters from Bathz, dated the 1ft inft. ftate the opinion, that endeavours would be ufed to obftruct the navigation of the Scheldt, and that three Britifh line-of-battle fhips, of which the Princess of Orange and Leyden were two, had been appropriated to this fervice.

Seventeen thoufand of Congreve's rockets are ordered to be fent off, without a moment's delay, to be put on board the fhips that compofe the new Expedition.

It is faid that the Duke of Brunfwick this day received an account that the Pruffian army is encamped, but for what purpofe we know not.

General Sir J. Hope, it is faid, is to command the troops from the Scheldt, on the new expedition for which they are deftined.

A great difference of opinion is faid to prevail between the naval and military Commanders relative to the practicability of effecting the objects of the late expedition. There is no doubt that the fubject muft undergo a ferious inveftigation.

OXFORD,

SATURDAY, SEPT. 9.

On Wednefday laft paffed through this city Gen. Mounet, late Governor of Flufhing, and Gen. Often, with their Aid-de-Camps, and feveral French Officers, on their way to Litchfield, where they are to remain on their parole.—And on Thurfday his Royal Highnefs the Duke of Suffex dined at the Star Inn, from whence he proceeded to the Marquis of Hertford's, at Ragley.

On Wednefday laft was married, by the Rev. Samuel Slade, the Rev. Henry Smith, M. A. late Student of Chrift Church, to Miss Taunton, eldeft daughter of W. E. Taunton, Efq.

On Saturday fe'nnight was married Mr. Thomas Angel, of Highworth, Wilts, to Miss Ann Morfe, of the fame place.

On Monday laft died, at Earl's Court, near Reading, in a fit of apoplexy, the Lady of the Right Hon. Sir William Scott, Member of Parliament for this University.

On Thurfday night laft died, at Thame Park, in this county, Mr. Wildgoofe, many years fteward to the late Lord Vifcount Wenman, and Philip Thos. Wykham, Efq.

We noticed laft week that the remains of the late Lord Henry Stuart had been conveyed through this city for interment:—We have now to notice the melancholy circumftance of the death of Lady Stuart, his widow, who died at Dover; and whofe remains were alfo conveyed through this city on Tuefday, for interment at Cardiff Caftle.—Lord and Lady Stuart had been at Dover, to take leave of their fon, who went on the Expedition to Walcheren.

Winchcombe Henry Howard Hartley, Efq. who was lately married to Miss Watts, of Bath, is the fon of Colonel Hartley, the late Member for Berks, and grandfon of the celebrated Dr. Hartley, by his fecond wife, Miss Packer, who inherited from her brother the Manor and Eftates of Bucklebury, in Berkfhire, and Sodbury, in Gloucefterfhire, a woman of exemplary virtue and piety, but whofe latter days were clouded by the moft unhappy malady that human nature can be afflicted with. David Hartley, Efq. fo well known in the political and philofophical world, is a fon of Dr. Hartley, by his firft wife, and therefore uncle, by half-blood only, to Mr. Winchcombe Howard Hartley. Winchcombe Henry Hartley, Efq. Judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court at the Cape of Good Hope, is the fon of Samuel Hartley, Efq. whofe father was a brother of Dr. Hartley.

Tuefday laft John Hunter, Efq. was elected Mayor of Evefham for the year enfuing.

The experiments towards afcertaining the exiftence or non-exiftence of Coal within the limits of Herefordfhire are intended to be undertaken within a fortnight, with every profpect of fucceefs.

The adjoining counties of Worcefter, Hereford, Warwick, Stafford, &c. have yet received but little injury from the rains, the partial funfhine having permitted the wheat in moft places to be well got in. It is generally admitted that the crops in thofe counties exceed, rather than fall fhort of, thofe of feveral years paft.

Assize of Bread.—The Half-peck Loaf, houfhold, 8lb. 11 oz. to be fold for 2s. 1½d.—The Quartern in the fame proportion.

Third, or North Oxfordfhire Regiment of Local Militia, Benjamin Robinfon, Gent. to be Adjutant.

An inquifition was lately taken at the Infirmary of his Majefty's Gaol at Aylesbury, in the county of Bucks, before James Burnham, Gent. Coroner, on view of the body of Ann Walier, who died by the vifitation of God.—Jurors' verdict accordingly.

On Tuefday laft an inquifition was taken at Prefton Cromarfh, in the parifh of Benfington, before Mr. Cooke, Coroner, on view of the body of James Gunhill, who was drowned in a lock on the River Thames, in that parifh, early the fame morning. Verdict—Cafual Death.

Cheltenham, Sept. 7. We are happy to announce the completion of the tunnel through Hay-hill, to the Forefl of Dean, which, thus connected with the river Severn, eftablifhes a channel by which the productions of the Forefl may be brought much quicker to market.

Gloucestershire Society.—Tuefday fe'nnight the Gentlemen Natives of this county, with the other friends of this benevolent inftitution, met their Prefident, Robert Buth, Efq. at St. Paul's church, Briftol, to attend divine fervice. The Rev. Mr. Brocklebank preached from Pfalm xli. 1. "Bleffed is he that confidereth the poor." After which they dined at the White Lion, when the fum of 192 l. 13 s. was collected.

The anniverfary meeting of the Clergy and Sons of the Clergy, which was celebrated the fame day at Briftol, was numerouffy attended. The collection, including 33 l. at the church door, for the daughters of Clergymen, amounted to 375 l. 14 s. 7 d. The Rt. Hon. Lord Ducie, and the Rev. Slade Baker, Rector of Bufcot, Berks, were chofen Stewards for the year enfuing.

Briftol Fair commenced on Friday laft, and exhibited a very large fhow of cattle. Fat beafts went off readily at good prices; of the lean kind great numbers were driven away unfold. Horfes brought high prices. The itinerants were numerous; and the pick-pockets not idle—one gentleman loft his pocket-book, for the reftoration of which a reward of 20 l. has been offered.

Henry Baylis, about 4 years of age, was on Wednefday murdered by his mother, Hannah Baylis, of Bifhop's-Cleeve, Gloucefterfhire, who, in a violent fit of infanity, beat out his brains. She had previoufly attempted to deftroy two other of her children, one by cutting its throat, which only failed from the bluntnefs of the knife; and the other was happily refcued from her grafp, at the moment when fhe was going to break his back acrofs a window-frame! It was during the confufion occafioned by this awful fcene, and before fhe could be fecured, that fhe murdered the poor innocent firft mentioned.
