Extract of a Letter from Commodore Sir John Borlase Warren to Lord Bridport.

My Lord, La Pomone, at Sea, Aug. 12, 1797.

In the morning of the 7th instant, a convoy of the enemy, with a ship corvette, a brig and schooner gun-boats, two armed luggers, several chasse marees and brigs, were discovered hauling to for, one of the Pertuis de Breton, from Bachelier. It attempted to cut them off, or destroy them with La Pomone and Jason, who attacked a fort, in order to cover the Sylph, who was anchored near the two corvettes, having left the Triton in chace to windward. The enemy perceiving our intention, anchored at the entrance of the river of Sable D'Olonne, close under the fort, the ship corvette and gun-boat with springs upon their cables. At eleven, being near enough, the firing commenced, and continued for an hour, when the gun-boat slipped her cables to run on shore, but sunk before she got into the river, near the small vessels, and the corvette remained aft a-ground, but deserted by her people, and much damaged; as I did not think it possible to set her on fire with the boats of the squadron, there being little wind, and the tide of flood setting in upon the coast, we hauled our wind to the Southward.

This has occasioned a delay of some time of the enemy's supplies arriving at Brest, as one of the vessels is destroyed, and it is doubtful if the other can be repaired so as to be of any use in future. The ships of the squadron have sustained very trifling damages. A return of the killed and wounded in each ship is inclosed. I have only to lament, that a more favourable moment did not present itself to afford the officers and men an opportunity of distinguishing themselves; but the enemy must have suffered considerably on board the vessels and in the fort, from the number of shot that struck them. Some hot shot were fired from a battery of five guns, which fell fire to the Sylph, but any ill effects were prevented by the exertions of the officers and men of that vessel, who cut them out, and behaved otherwise with much spirit and zeal.

(Signed) JOHN WARREN.

P. S. Since I began this letter, I have received information from three vessels who had left Sable D'Olonne, subsequent to the above affair, and the following is the result of their reports:——

"The ship corvette is in the harbour, but so damaged as to be unfit for service."—"The gun-boat remains sunk and destroyed."—"The enemy had several killed and wounded in the two vessels."—"In the fort five soldiers were killed, and two guns dismounted, and some wounded; two or three houses much shattered."——We were off Sable D'Olonne on the 26th, and saw the ship in the harbour.

La Pomone, 1 seaman, killed; 2 seamen, 1 marine, wounded. Sylph, 1 petty officer, 1 seamen, killed; 4 seamen wounded.

Extract of another Letter from Sir J. B. Warren.

On the 2nd inst. I chased and drove upon the coast of Ile Dieu, L'Egalite, armed chasse maree, of four six-pounders and eight swivels, and which we afterwards got off, and continued steering for the mouth of the Garonne.—On the 27th ult. being to the Southward of the river, a number of vessels were seen in the South-West quarter, I made the signal for a general chase, and continued until night, when, from the Triton being far advanced a-head, and the Jason to windward, the ships kept the enemy in sight after the approach of night. Owing to the exertions of Captain Cooper and Strong, five of them were captured.

At two A. M. being near the shore, a cutter was seen at anchor, that had accompanied the convoy, and one of the boats of this ship was sent to her; but being ordered to keep off, and losing the was a vessel of force, returned. I hoed in after her, and upon our firing a few shot, one of which cut away her mast, the ship her cable, and run among the breakers upon the coast of Arcasson, and into a hole tremendous surf that broke on board her, and must have shot her to pieces. She at last drove through, and I fancy several of her crew were drowned, and as the tide left her, she fell over; the remainder of her men, abounigety in number, got on shore. She was called La Petite Diable, a very fine vessel, pierced for 18 or 20 guns, and 180 men complement.

The prizes are laden with ship-timber, rosin, and tar, and were intended to fit out privateers from the enemy's principal ports upon the coast.——JOHN WARREN.

A List of Vessels belonging to the French Republic, captured and destroyed by the squadron under the orders of Sir John Borlase Warren, between the 17th July, 1797, and the 6th of September following.

Vessels of war captured.—L'Egalite, chasse maree, 50 tons, 8 guns and 20 men, captured August 23, 1797, at L'Ile Dieu.—Vessels of war destroyed.—La Gallinge, frigate, 38 guns and 250 men, captured July 17, 1797, in Mollerone bay; rigged and sunk.—La Freedom, ship, 300 tons, 8 guns and 47 men, captured July 17, 1797; burnt.—A ship corvette, 22 guns and 200 men, captured August 11, 1797, at Sable D'Olonne; on shore and bilged.—A brig gun-vessel, 12 guns and 70 men; sunk.—Le Petit Diable, cutter, 18 guns and 180 men, captured August 26, 1797, on the coast of Arcasson; on shore, bilged, and fell over.—The merchant vessels captured were, one fish, eight brigs, and seven chasse marees, laden with naval stores and provisions, and sent to Falmouth, excepting two, which foundered; two brigs, one chasse maree, and three sloops, with like cargoes, were destroyed.

Doris, off the Old Head of Kinsale, Sept. 8, 1797.

In latitude 48 deg. 40 min. N. longitude 12 deg. W. I chased and captured the Fabius, a famous privateer ship, of Nantes, having on board 16 six-pounders and four twelve-pounders, with 140 men. She had been out ten days from Nantes, and had captured a small Portuguese vessel only from Cork, bound to Lisbon. RANELAGH.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Welley, of the Arethusa, Spithead, September 23, 1797.

On the 20th of August, being in latitude 30 deg. 42 min. and longitude 55 deg. 50 min. having in tow a ship under Prussian colours from Surinam, which I have detained, inspecting her to be Dutch property, we perceived, at day-light, three sail to windward of us, one of which, deceived by our appearance, bore down upon us, under French colours, to within half gun-shot, when she began to fire, which she continued for more than half an hour before she attempted to escape. We were, however, fortunate enough to have so disabled her in that time as to render her endeavours fruitless. On striking the prize proved to be La Gabre, French corvette, of 20 French eight-pounders and 186 men, commanded by M. Guienne, Enseigne de Vaisseau. She is a very handsome ship, and quite new, this being her first voyage. She left France in April last for Cayenne, which last place she sailed from about four weeks before we fell in with her, in company with the L'Espoir, a brig of 14 guns, who kept to windward during the action, and shod away as soon as the few shot fell on the Gabre. We had 1 seaman killed; Mr. W. De Morton, Captain's Clerk, lost his leg; 2 seamen wounded.—The French, 3 seamen killed, 8 dito wounded.

Copy of a Letter from Rear-Admiral Harvey, Fort Royal Bay, Martinique, July 25, 1797.

The Lapwing, the 6th instant, being to the leeward of Monserrat, captured Le Veteran, French privateer sloop, belonging to Guadalaupe, of 8 guns and 24 men; and the following day captured La Dorad, French privateer sloop, also belonging to Guadeloupe, of 4 guns and 74 men. The Resolut captured, to windward of Barbadoes, the 6th ult. Le Entiere, Dutch privateer sloop, of 10 guns and 54 men, five days from Curacoa, and has taken nothing.

BANKRUPT.

LONDON, September 19.

The navy of Britain, since the commencement of the war, has, in its various ways, seventy-one vessels of different descriptions, of which, our Berwick, and their recovered Le Cour, of 74 guns each, with ten smaller vessels, mounting in the entire 818 guns, are in possession of the enemy; but our enemies have lost during the like period, one ship of 120 guns, 1 of 104, three of 80; 1 of 80, 1 of 74, 1 of 70, twenty-four of 64; two of 54, one of 48, twenty-nine of 44; one of 42; two of 40; fourteen of 36; two of 34; nine of 32; two of 30, five of 28, six of 26; twelve of 24; ten of 22; and ten of 20; making fifty-three ships of the line, two of 60 guns, seventy frigates, and thirty-four smaller vessels, amounting to 159 men of war, carrying 6,228 guns; ultimately the greatest part of which now bear the Ensigns of Britain into the power of her enemies; besides numerous mountings 1,198 guns, which we lost by accident.

Some of our new made Peers, and those, who want to become such, would do well to recollect the following anecdote of Louis XI. of France.—"A certain Merchant, whom Louis had much respected for his useful undertakings, and had frequently admitted to his table, applied to Louis for letters of Nobility, who granted them to him immediately, and never afterwards took the least notice of him. 'Go your ways,' said the farewel Monarch to him;' when I permitted you to sit at my table, I looked upon you as the first man of your condition in life; now that you are become the lad, I should act unjustly to my Nobility, if I suffered you to be the same honest.'"

One of those worthies known by the name of Money Lenders, who never possessed the means, absconded last week, with a set of bills belonging to a tradesman in the city, to the amount of 600l. which he had to get discounted, and is supposed to be on his way to Hambro'.

GAMING HOUSES.—It may be some fort of amusement to prefent our Readers with the following List of Officers eftablished in the moft notorious Gaming-Houfes, as far back as the year 1731.—1. DR. BRODUM'S NERVOUS CORDIAL, ſo eminent for its Virtues in curing the Nervous and Conſumptive Complaints; eſpecially Deafneſs, Debilitated Conſtitutions, &c. It is likewiſe an infallible Remedy for Ladies in Nature's Decays, certain Weakneſſes, &c. which was ſo ſucceſſfully adminiſtered by the celebrated Doctors De-la-Cour and Hugh Smith, the intimate Friends of Dr. Brodum, No. 9, Albion Street, Blackfriars Bridge.

This incompatible Reſtorative has been adminiſtered in private Practice for many Years, and ſince the Date of Time of its Invention, it has been eſtabliſhed in the Eſtimation of the Public. The important Conſideration that there is not a more ſalutary Preparation in the whole Materia Medica, is a ſufficient Motive for the Doctor to recommend it to Valetudinarians of the following Deſcriptions, whoſe Health he conſults more than his own private Emolument.

Be the Objects Male or Female, in the Juvenility of Youth, or advanced in Years, they will all participate in the ſanative Effects the Adminiſtration of it produces. That if the Syſtem is debilitated through theſe Imprudencies generally committed in early Life, or degenerates into a languid State through the Decay of Nature, a few Doſes effectuate a Return to Health, by ſtrengthening the Tone of the muſcular Syſtem, improving the Organs of Digeſtion, and poſitively giving a new Stamina to the Conſtitution.

What has raiſed the Character of the Nervous Cordial is the very handſome Manner in which the London Phyſicians has ſpoken of it, as the beſt Tonic Medicine in all Nervous Affections without Exception.—Dr. B. returns his moſt grateful Thanks to Dr. L. for the very generous and unſolicited Manner in which he has recently recommended it to the Adoption of his Patients.

The Botanical Syrup and Reſtorative Nervous Cordial to be had at the Doctor's, No. 9, Albion Street, in Bottles of 1l. 2s. 11s. 6d. and 5s. 5d. (Duty included); and by his Agents,—Mrs. Jones, at the Printing Office, High Street, Oxford, (late Jackſon's); Meſſrs. Smart and Cowſlade, Reading; Fuller, Newbury; Mr. Blakeney, Windſor; and in the Circuit of the Oxford, Reading, and Saliſbury Papers, and their Agents and Newſmen; and in the Country by Printers, Booſellers, and Vendors of Medicine in the three Kingdoms. It may alſo be had by giving Orders to the Newſmen.

The Bottles at 1l. 1s. contains equal to five at 5s. 5d. Advice every Monday, Tueſday, and Wedneſday, at the Doctor's Houſe.

SPILSBURY'S ANTISCORBUTIC DROPS.

THE many convincing proofs of the efficacy of this medicine which have been laid before the public, are almoſt ſufficient to induce the propietor totally to withdraw her advertiſements, were it not for the many extraordinary Cures of perſons of the utmoſt reſpectability, which are daily offered, and which ſhe is ſolicited to publiſh. The following is particularly deſired to be made known:—

"ELIZABETH NEVILLE, daughter of Thomas Neville, Collector of Exciſe, of Colcheſter, in the county of Eſſex, was from her infancy afflicted with the Scurvy to that inveterate degree as to reſiſt all medicine, till ſhe arrived at the age of ten years, when, having heard of the many extraordinary Cures performed by SPILSBURY'S ANTISCORBUTIC DROPS, I procured a bottle, which had an extraordinary effect. By perſevering and taking twelve or fourteen bottles, ſhe has obtained a perfect Cure. She is near fifteen years of age, and is now quite free from any ſymptoms of that dreadful diſorder.

THOMAS NEVILLE."

Colcheſter, Auguſt 25, 1797.

These Drops are ſold in bottles of 5s. and 1l. 2s. each, at the Diſpenſary in Sohe Square, and by all Venders of Patent Medicines in town and country.
