HOUSE of COMMONS, FERRARY 28.

MR. Lefeure brought in his Bill for altering and amending the Game Laws, so far as relates to time of killing participes; and on the question for the first reading of it.

Mr. Coke opposed it, on the gridges; and on the desire time of killing participes; and on the tendence of the composition of the desire time from the 1sth 6 the 1st of Sentember much damage would be done to the flanding corn, especially in the northern counter; while by shortening the time from the 1sth 6 the 1st of February, the Sportfinan would in reality gain an addition only of ordering the state from the 1st of 1s

N,

The Chancellor of the Excheguer gave notice that he would ton-morrow move for leave to bring in a Bill to enable the Church to fell a part of their Land for the Redmann of their Land daily expects another wift from the Enemy, and in very formidable numbers. Accordingly all officers abfent on leave are offered their control of their land of their different fations, and no ablence is in future to be allowed. The armament that has for fome time been reparing at Bred editined for Iroland. Several the Redmann of their different fations, and no ablence is in future to be allowed. The armament that has for fome time been reparing at Bred editined for Iroland. Several that the Redmann of their chiefferent fations, and no ablence is in future to be allowed. The armament that has for fome time been reparing at Bred editined for Iroland. Several that has for fome time been reparing at Bred editined for Iroland. Several that has for fome time been reparaing at Bred editined for Iroland. Several that has been reparained to the coast to be ready for embarkation; and among thefe is a whole regiment of United Irimm. who have efcaped to France at different times during and fine the late Hellion, although motor of them came in under the King's pardon, and cook the oast of allegiance, from which they got atholved by their Priefls. It is under the expectation of another vitif from the enemy, that her rebels ftill in the constry are agitating it anew, in order to keep the deluded multitude in a flate of preparation for mitchier. And hence originates the Bill jult brought into Parliament by the Attorney General, and which appears most highly necessary.
