COVERNMENT is preparing a very formidable naval force for the North Seas.—

A part of the Navy Board, with Sir A. Hammond at its head, has vifited Chatham and Portfmouth, reviewing our principal yards, and declaring what ships are fit for fervice.

The Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland met yeflerday, for the first time, pursuant to his Majethy's Proclamation. Nothing, however, except buffness of course, finch as the election of a Speaker, and the swearing in of the Members of the House of Commons, took place; nor will any till Tuefday next, when his Majethy will go in state to the House of Peers, and open the Selfion with a Speech from the Throne. — The Lord Steward of the Household attended at the House of Commons, at twelve o'clock, to swear in Members.

Mr. Pelham, in the House of Commons, proposed the Right Hon. Henry Addington to be Speaker, which was feconded by Mr. Yorke, and passide unanimously. He was conducted to the Chair by the mover and seconder of the motion with the usual folenmities.

The READER in ANATOMY will begin his COURSE of LECTURES of Thursday the 5th of February, at one Octock, in the Anatomy School, Christ Church.

On Saturday laft the Rev. J. Prince, Bachelor in Civil Law, of Corpus Christi College, was admitted Dotor in Civil Law.

The Sub-Committee for bettering the condition of the Poor of this City having received a barrel of corned herrings, by way of sample, and being very defirous of introducing them into general consumption, the Mayor has been requested to call a meeting of the inhabitants to be holden on Tuessay next, for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of tripplying the poor with them, three days in the week, in Read of soup.—See Adacyt, in the next column.

Yesterday morning died, aged 35, Mr. Mose Keates, of St. Ebbe's, in this City.

On Saturday last an inquisition was taken at Sandsford, before Mr. Buckland, one of his Majesty's Coroners for this County, on view of the body of Richard Bishop, who, it appeared, fell from a boat, about a month since, into the River Isis, in endeavouring to shoot larger was desired.

came with the child, by the Nottingham Coach, to the Rofe Inn, in Edgabation Street, Birmingham, where the arrived between even and eight o'clock in the evening. About nine the left the inn, with the child, who was then dreffed in a white mullin frock, a beaver hat with a gold band, and tied with green ribbons. About ten o'clock the fame evening he was found by a boatman on the fide of the canal, near the Steam Mill, Snow Hill, in an fituation where, in the opinion of the winterfes, it was impossible to could have got, without being taken; and which opinion was fully confirmed by an accurate plan produced to the Court and Jury. At this time his mulin frock had been taken off, the gold band and frings removed from his hat, and he was covered with a coarse hurden pinasfore, which appeared never to have been worn, and feemed to have been made for the occasion. The night was very dark, and had the child walked a sew yards, he must, in all human probability, have perished in the canal. It appeared, that about the time the child was sound, she went to the Bird in Hand inn, in Dale End, where the supped and sleeps, and from whence the took an inside place: an the Litchfeld Mail Coach, and went off the next morning by seven clocks. She did not show where to look for it; but acknowledged the made no enquiry after it. On this evidence the Jury found her goilty, and the Court sentenced her to twelve months' imprisonment in the common gaol, where she is to be confined in a folitary cell.
