SATURDAY'S POST. BY EXPRESS.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Thurfilay, Feb. 23.

A FTER a great deal of private bunnels had been gone through, the Speaker rofe and fad, "I have to acquant the House that I have received a letter from the Duke of York relative to the enquiry now pending, which, with their permillion, I will read to the House."

The House having ignified its affent, the Speaker proceeded to read the letter, which was to the following effect:—

"To the Speaker of the House of Commons.

Horse Guards, Frb. 23, 18

"You the Speaker of the House of Commons.

"Both Speaker of the House of Commons."

"Sir, I have waited with the greated naviety of the Committee of Enquiry had clofed its examination, and I now hope it will not be deemed improper that the Committee of Enquiry had clofed its examination, and I now hope it will not be deemed improper that the court of the commons, through you, on the flable."

I have been gone into, my name has been complete with transfactions of the most criminal and digractful nature; and I must always lament a connection which has expufed my honour and character to fuch unmerited animalvertion. With respect to any concern in the transfactions, I new, so were not not not not not not be the common that the common state of the common state is the common state. The common state is the common state of the common state of

The Speaker observed, that the proper consistency, that the letter should lie on the table for the inspection of every Member.
