RY Libon Gazettes, and letters to the 27th, little feems to be known there reflecting the movements of the Freach. It is flated, however, that they were underflood to be on their murch from Oporto to that capital. It is added that the English army was in high flyints, and impatient to receive them.

Four Gottenburgh Mails, and Swedish Journals to the 6th mil. reached town yesierday. They afford to little intelligence, that this croumshaue yields unexpected proof of the tranquility which they are the state extraordinary change of Government. The Swedes profess the moil friendly disjoint on towards England; and no doubt feel as they protes; but their actions must now be determined by Itulia and France; and Ruils is strated to lave expected ber determination not to make peace, unless the Swedish ports are flut against England. We find mouther convoy has failed from this country to Gottenburgh, though Sir Samuel Hood, in the zealous discharge of his duty, had deathed the former convoy arrived from England, and was expected to fend the ships back without unitading. What sleps, if any, are taking by our Government, for ascertaining, or guiding our relations with Sweden in her new circumstances, we know not.

Some late accounts from Paris have tended to

A letter from the Hawamah, dated the 13th of Dec. flates, that the city of St. Jago, in the idnard of Hispaniola, had threadered to the Patriots, who were adified in their enterprife to reduce the place both by the mulattoes and negroes. At the Hawamah, ittel, every thing was in abundance, and from thence a gulliot was on the eve of fulling with a flapply of 3000 makets and $2,000 chilans for De Cadro. To the north-east is a fundi idand called Samana, with a town and port of the fame name. The Englith, who were cruizing with one fail of the line and there fragiets on the coath, had taken pofetion of this idand, and delivered it up to the Spanift General. All the accounts flew the enthudsaft of the inhabitants of Hispaniola in favour of the parent country, and we think, that in a very thort interval the French will be expelled from it. At Hawamah letters have been received from the repital of Peru, dated the 20th of November. Ferfund the Vilth had been proclaimed in Lima, where the emitlaries of Napolcon had been received from rhouse before the Marquis of Somernelos arrived with dispatches from the lightmate government. As foon as this nobleman appeared, the embarquisment which was occasioned by the intrusion of millions of dollars, in specie, was collected to be remitted bone, one fourth part of which was composed of voluntary contributions.
