

MUSIC ROOM.

THE CHORAL MUSIC for the present Term, will be on Monday next the 14th Instant, for which Miss BERRY, from London, is engaged.

TO BE LETT, and may be entered upon immediately.—A neat and commodious SHED, in the High Street, Oxford, suitably well fitted for Builders.—Enquire of Mr. Ephraim West, High Street.

TO BE SOLD.—A strong useful MARE for the Road, rising six Years old, with good Pace, warranted Sound and free from Vice.

TO CORN DEALERS AND OTHERS, Requiring dry and extensive Premises.

TO BE LETT, and may be entered upon immediately.—A WAREHOUSE, siting on a fine Piece of Ground, with a good house, and a well fitted together to separate. The Premises are conveniently situated in the Town of Birmingham on the Bank of the Canal, and have the Advantage of a collateral Cut, and Wharf, of which the Proprietor has the sole and exclusive Use.

TO BE LETT, and may be entered upon immediately.—A WAREHOUSE, siting on a fine Piece of Ground, with a good house, and a well fitted together to separate. The Premises are conveniently situated in the Town of Birmingham on the Bank of the Canal, and have the Advantage of a collateral Cut, and Wharf, of which the Proprietor has the sole and exclusive Use.

SATURDAY'S POST. (BY EXPRESS)

ARMED ASSOCIATIONS. MR. DUNDA'S observed, that many Associates had expressed a wish to be enabled to assemble together, and that the purpose of being exercised; but from the great distance between many of them in several counties, it was inconvenient for them to do so.

On Monday last a legacy of 100 pounds, bequeathed by Mrs. Mary Frith, late of Pentonville, near London, who died in June last, was equally distributed by Messrs. Powell and Backock to ten poor widows of the parish of St. Ebb, in this City, the place of her abode.

On Monday last was married at St. James's Church, Piccadilly, London, Mr. Francis Lamb, of the County of St. Albans, Esq., only daughter of Mr. William Ellis, Linen Draper, of the same place.

Last week was married at Plymouth, the Rev. W. Hunt, A. B. of Exeter College, to Miss Hill, only daughter of A. Hill, Esq. land surveyor at Plymouth.

Saturday last died Charles Daniel Gutch, fourth son of the Rev. John Gutch, Registrar of the University, aged eleven years and half. His early and exemplary piety enabled him to bear a long and painful illness with uncommon patience.

On Tuesday evening last died, aged 69 years, Mr. Jof. Hughes, formerly Brewer in this City, who died at Berry Field House, Bourton on the Water, Gloucestershire, after a long continued illness. Mrs. Wilkins, wife of the Rev. William Wilkins.

Lately died at Bicester in this county, in the 74th year of his age, Mr. W. R. Currier.

ASSISTANT BARON.—Pocke, 25, 4d.—Half Peck and Quarter in the Pound.

At his house in Devonshire Place, the Lady of William Blake, Esq. of a Son.

MARRIAGE.—T. Camplin, Esq. of Bath, to Miss Baynton, of Sney Park, Wilts, grand daughter of Sir Edw. Baynton, Chamber Clerk, Treasurer of the Exchequer, and Sir Catherine Ferris, of Baddeley Climes, Wiltshire.

At Great Wyke, Mr. Croxson, of Hill-street, to Miss Sailer, of the former place.—At St. Mary's, Westminster, the Rev. T. A. Abbot, of Quaker's Alley, to Miss Baynton, of Sney Park, Wilts.

At Wymouth, Francis Stewart, Esq. of Mr. John Baker, Banker and Druggist, of Birmingham, in his 80th year, to Mrs. George Cowles, formerly an eminent Deal of Gloucester, who had acted as his wife's many years.—At Tibberton, aged 80, Mr. Philip Barcroft, Mr. John Webb, Attorney at Law, Bourton.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

OXFORD, May 11.

On Thursday last the Rev. Robert Trotman Coates, of Corpus Christi College, Rev. Robert Prichard, of Jesus College, M. A. were admitted B. D. Rev. Richard Wetherell, of University College, Rev. George Robson, of Queen's College, Rev. John Edger, of St. John's, Rev. Theophilus Barnes, of Exeter College, and the Rev. Samuel Street, of Merton College, B. A. were admitted M. A. and Mr. T. Harrison, of Queen's College, was admitted B. A.

The Oxford Annual Association of Loyal Volunteers, amounting to upwards of 250 members, were this week regularly organized, and have appointed the following Gentlemen Officers:—Lieutenant-Col.—Sir Digby Mackworth, Bart. Major.—Christopher Pegge, M. D. Captains.—Mr. J. Parsons and Mr. Jof. Cooke. Captain Lieutenant.—Mr. John Ireland. Adjutant, with rank as Lieut.—Mr. J. Bygate. Lieutenants.—Mr. William Folker, and Mr. Jof. Lusk.

Ensigns.—Mr. Richard Cox, Mr. Henry Paffard, Mr. Edw. Hichings, and Mr. W. Hanwell. As it is apprehended that in case of an actual invasion, much use will be made of Canals in order to convey the Cannon and other military stores, from their central situation, we heard the Committee of that Company have ordered such arrangements to be made on the Canal, as will, in such a case, be very beneficial to the public service.

On Monday last a legacy of 100 pounds, bequeathed by Mrs. Mary Frith, late of Pentonville, near London, who died in June last, was equally distributed by Messrs. Powell and Backock to ten poor widows of the parish of St. Ebb, in this City, the place of her abode.

On Monday last was married at St. James's Church, Piccadilly, London, Mr. Francis Lamb, of the County of St. Albans, Esq., only daughter of Mr. William Ellis, Linen Draper, of the same place.

Last week was married at Plymouth, the Rev. W. Hunt, A. B. of Exeter College, to Miss Hill, only daughter of A. Hill, Esq. land surveyor at Plymouth.

Saturday last died Charles Daniel Gutch, fourth son of the Rev. John Gutch, Registrar of the University, aged eleven years and half. His early and exemplary piety enabled him to bear a long and painful illness with uncommon patience.

On Tuesday evening last died, aged 69 years, Mr. Jof. Hughes, formerly Brewer in this City, who died at Berry Field House, Bourton on the Water, Gloucestershire, after a long continued illness. Mrs. Wilkins, wife of the Rev. William Wilkins.

Lately died at Bicester in this county, in the 74th year of his age, Mr. W. R. Currier.

ASSISTANT BARON.—Pocke, 25, 4d.—Half Peck and Quarter in the Pound.

At his house in Devonshire Place, the Lady of William Blake, Esq. of a Son.

MARRIAGE.—T. Camplin, Esq. of Bath, to Miss Baynton, of Sney Park, Wilts, grand daughter of Sir Edw. Baynton, Chamber Clerk, Treasurer of the Exchequer, and Sir Catherine Ferris, of Baddeley Climes, Wiltshire.

At Great Wyke, Mr. Croxson, of Hill-street, to Miss Sailer, of the former place.—At St. Mary's, Westminster, the Rev. T. A. Abbot, of Quaker's Alley, to Miss Baynton, of Sney Park, Wilts.

At Wymouth, Francis Stewart, Esq. of Mr. John Baker, Banker and Druggist, of Birmingham, in his 80th year, to Mrs. George Cowles, formerly an eminent Deal of Gloucester, who had acted as his wife's many years.—At Tibberton, aged 80, Mr. Philip Barcroft, Mr. John Webb, Attorney at Law, Bourton.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

At a meeting of the Whig Club, on Tuesday last, Mr. Fox, in a speech declaratory of his sentiments in their critical times, condemned Ministers in the most pointed manner for the measures adopted in Ireland, which measures, he said, they certainly had not the least influence of in that Kingdom; that Tyranny was now the order of the day in every country in Europe, and France had openly trampled on the Rights of Man.

OXFORD ARMED ASSOCIATION.

A Meeting of the joint Committees of the Oxford Armied Association, held at the Town Hall, Thursday the 10th of May, 1798.

Sir Digby Mackworth, Bart. in the Chair. It appeared to the Committees, that the Subscription for arms for defending the Liberties of the Army, and the Constitution of the Kingdom, was generally promoted and assisted by the Inhabitants as might be wished; and concluding that the Association has for its Object the general Defence and Security of the Place, and the Persons composing it, the Committee resolved, that the Members of the Corps to fill further Expense, which to many others, who equally at least partake of the Benefits of the Institution, are exempt from all share of the Burden. The Committee therefore resolved, that the Members should be invited to call the Attention of the Inhabitants on this Subject, and to invite them to promote the Subscription. They by an address to the Contributors to the same, and to the Members of the Association, in a Subscription, the Committee hope to render it general; and it should be easy to raise a sufficient Fund.

THOMAS HENRY TAUNTON, Secretary.

BOARD AND LODGING.

A Single Lady or Gentleman may be accommodated with BOARD and LODGING in a small genteel Family, in a pleasant and healthy Village near Oxford, by Mrs. Jones, at the Printing Office, High Street, Oxford.

N. B. Letters, addressed as above, may be put paid.

SHOE MAKERS.

WANTED immediately, Two Journeymen of the Men's Branch, good Workmen. Constant employ and the best Wages will be given. Apply to Mr. EDWARD ROBERTSON, Boot and Shoe Maker, 25, Abingdon Street, Oxford.

N. B. No Person need apply but such as described above.

WANTED immediately, an Apprentice to the Trade, WOODS, DRAPERS, &c. in a pleasant Market Town, in the County of OXFORD, a YOUTH of good Morals and Education, and of respectable Family. He will be treated as one of the Family, and receive a general Education, and the Salary of £100 per Annum. For Particulars apply to Mr. John Kingston, of Chipping Norton, in the County of Oxford.

A Ready furnished HOUSE, at Headington, near Oxford, to be LETT, for four or five Months, from the first of June next, consisting of a large Lodging Room, Drawing Room, and convenient Bed Chamber, a Coach House, three Stables, and a Garden. For Particulars apply to Mr. JOHN WILKINSON, at the Crown Tavern, in the City of Oxford, or to Mr. JOHN WILKINSON, at the Crown Tavern, in the City of Oxford.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, the 18, 19, and 20th of May, 1798, at the Public Sale of the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, &c. of the late Mrs. ROBERTSON, at Lee Place, in the Parish of Charlbury, Oxfordshire, late the Residence of Benjamin Folker, Esq. deceased; consisting of four Bed Rooms with Mattresses, Damask and Carpeted, a good looking Bedstead, a Dressing Room, Linen, China, a Variety of Cabinet Work in fine Japanese Mahogany Dining and Drawing Room Suits, a handsome Steel Grate, Large Pair and Dressing Glasses, window Cases, Clocks, Tables, and other FURNITURE, such as Jack, Iron, and all the Kitchen Furniture, Hangings, Copper, Cakes, Dairy and Brewing Utensils, Iron Rails, Cucumber Furniture, and Garden Implements.

To be viewed the Day preceding and each Morning of the Sale, at Lee Place, in the Parish of Charlbury, Oxfordshire, at the Residence of Benjamin Folker, Esq. deceased; and at the Auctioneers, Woodroffe, in the City of Oxford.

VALUABLE SOIL AND FARM, IN THE PARISH OF BUCKINGHAM, IN THE COUNTY OF OXFORD.

TO be perpetually SOLD BY AUCTION, At the spacious Rooms, Great Piazza, Covent Garden, on Saturday June 9th, at Twelve o'Clock, in one Lot, A VALUABLE and MOST DESIRABLE FREEHOLD ESTATE, comprising the PARISH OF FRESCO, with all the Rights and Privileges thereto belonging, SUBSTANTIAL OLD MANSION, convenient FARM HOUSE, and all requisite Out-Buildings, together with THREE HUNDRED and EIGHTY-TWO Acres of Land, of which the following is a Part:—PASTURE, and ARABLE LAND, the Whole Inclosed, and Tithed Free, well watered, and lying very compact, nearly within a King Fence, situate within FOUR MILES of BANBURY, in the County of OXFORD, at present let upon Lease to Mr. JOHN WILLIFER, for an unexpired Term of three Years, at an old and very low Rent.

Four Hundred and Seventy Pounds, per Ann. But preferred to be worth nearly double.

May be viewed with Leave of the Tenant, Twenty-one Days prior to the Sale, when printed Particulars may be had, and at the Office of Messrs. Bignell and Wykeham, Bankers, also at Chapel House, St. James's, Oxford; and of Messrs. Robins, Covent Garden, London, where a Plan may be seen. Mr. Willifer, the Tenant, will give the Whole Estate.

VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS TO AMBROSDEN, In Aid of Government for the Defence of the Country. To be paid to the Bank of England.

Table of names and amounts for voluntary contributions to Ambrosden.

At the Village of AMBROSDEN, And at the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

NOTICE is hereby given, That a General Meeting of his Majesty's Lieutenancy of the County of Buckingham will be held at the COVENANT HOUSE, in Buckingham, on Monday the 12th Instant, for carrying into Execution the Militia Laws.

By Order of the Most Noble George Marquis of Buckingham, Lord Lieutenant.

ROBERT MILLER, Clerk of the General Meetings.

THE Reverend Clergy of the Diocese of Worcester.

I have this Day received a Copy of the inclosed Report from the Lieutenancy of the County of Worcester, and in consequence thereof, I have the Honour to acquaint you, that I have the same under consideration.

Very faithfully and affectionately, Your Obedient Servant, R. WORCESTER.

At a Meeting of the two Archbishops and eleven Bishops held this Day, the following Resolutions were passed unanimously:—That it would not be consistent in any considerable Degree to the Defence and Safety of the Kingdom, and would interfere with the proper Duties of the Profession, if the Clergy were to accept Commissions in any Army, or to be employed in any Military Corps, or to be trained up to the Art of Arms.

Resolved FURTHER, That in the Case of such Invasion or dangerous Intercourse, it will be the Duty of every Clergyman to give his Assistance in repelling both in any way that the Urgency of the Case may require.

(Signed) J. CANTUAR.

ASH FEAST.

Soundy and Byles respectfully inform their Friends and Customers they propose having their Ash Feasts, as has been usual, on Thursday next the 19th Instant, at One o'Clock, when they hope for the Pleasure of their Company.

Bel See, Coals, Cokes, and Welsh Coals (Pool Measure) Charcoal, Bricks, and Coal Ash, on the lower Terms.—LOCKTON FOSTER.

DEALS, TIMBER, LATHS, &c. THOMAS OSBORNE begs Leave to inform the Public, he has a Quantity of Deals, Laths, and other Timber, which he will regularly supply with the best Goods at a reduced Price.

RAWLINS and WOOLLEN, APOTHECARIES, High Street, Oxford. ALL Persons who stand indebted to the Partnership of Mr. RICHARD RAWLINS, and the late Mr. JOHN CLARK WOOLLEN, are desired forthwith to pay to Mr. RAWLINS, the (surviving Partner) Mr. Edw. Rawlins, Excise, who is authorized to receive the same; and those who have any Claim on the said Partnership, are desired to send their Account as above. Mr. Rawlins's Bank Book is deposited to Mr. Rawlins, in the Town, for safe.

BLANDFORD PARK, GOSPORT, &c. Blandford Park, remarkable for good Water, Shade, and Views, is taken in by Edward Blandford, in the Shilling and Sixpence per Week, as usual. Great Care will be taken in Case any Accident should happen, as there will be a Person constantly to inspect them.—The Money to be paid when the Harvee are taken away.

WATTLING VOLUNTARY SUBSCRIPTIONS For the Defence of the Country.

Table of names and amounts for Watling voluntary subscriptions.

VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS At the Village of AMBROSDEN, And at the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

At the Hamlets of BLACKBURN and ANCOAT, in the Parish of...

A COOK WANTED.

WANTED, in a small Family, about four or five Miles from Oxford, a COOK, who shall well understand his Duty, and be a native of the County of Oxford, or of the County of Warwick, or of the County of Gloucester, or of the County of Hereford, or of the County of Worcester, or of the County of Devon, or of the County of Cornwall, or of the County of Somerset, or of the County of Dorset, or of the County of Kent, or of the County of Sussex, or of the County of Surrey, or of the County of Middlesex, or of the County of Essex, or of the County of Hertfordshire, or of the County of Bedfordshire, or of the County of Buckingham, or of the County of Northamptonshire, or of the County of Leicestershire, or of the County of Lincolnshire, or of the County of Northumberland, or of the County of Durham, or of the County of Yorkshire, or of the County of Lancashire, or of the County of Cheshire, or of the County of Derbyshire, or of the County of Staffordshire, or of the County of Warwickshire, or of the County of Gloucestershire, or of the County of Wiltshire, or of the County of Berkshire, or of the County of Oxfordshire, or of the County of Herefordshire, or of the County of Worcestershire, or of the County of Devonshire, or of the County of Cornwall, or of the County of Somerset, or of the County of Dorset, or of the County of Kent, or of the County of Sussex, or of the County of Surrey, or of the County of Middlesex, or of the County of Essex, or of the County of Hertfordshire, or of the County of Bedfordshire, or of the County of Buckingham, or of the County of Northamptonshire, or of the County of Leicestershire, or of the County of Lincolnshire, or of the County of Northumberland, or of the County of Durham, or of the County of Yorkshire, or of the County of Lancashire, or of the County of Cheshire, or of the County of Derbyshire, or of the County of Staffordshire, or of the County of Warwickshire, or of the County of Gloucestershire, or of the County of Wiltshire, or of the County of Berkshire, or of the County of Oxfordshire, or of the County of Herefordshire, or of the County of Worcestershire, or of the County of Devonshire, or of the County of Cornwall, or of the County of Somerset, or of the County of Dorset, or of the County of Kent, or of the County of Sussex, or of the County of Surrey, or of the County of Middlesex, or of the County of Essex, or of the County of Hertfordshire, or of the County of Bedfordshire, or of the County of Buckingham, or of the County of Northamptonshire, or of the County of Leicestershire, or of the County of Lincolnshire, or of the County of Northumberland, or of the County of Durham, or of the County of Yorkshire, or of the County of Lancashire, or of the County of Cheshire, or of the County of Derbyshire, or of the County of Staffordshire, or of the County of Warwickshire, or of the County of Gloucestershire, or of the County of Wiltshire, or of the County of Berkshire, or of the County of Oxfordshire, or of the County of Herefordshire, or of the County of Worcestershire, or of the County of Devonshire, or of the County of Cornwall, or of the County of Somerset, or of the County of Dorset, or of the County of Kent, or of the County of Sussex, or of the County of Surrey, or of the County of Middlesex, or of the County of Essex, or of the County of Hertfordshire, or of the County of Bedfordshire, or of the County of Buckingham, or of the County of Northamptonshire, or of the County of Leicestershire, or