FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE.

WHITEHALL, SEPT. 7.

THE King has been pleased to order a commission to pass the Great Seal of Great Britain, constituting and appointing his Royal Highness Field-Marshal Frederick Duke of York, K. G. Captain-General of all and singular his Majesty's land forces raised or to be raised, and employed within the kingdom of Great Britain; and also of all and singular his Majesty's land forces which are or shall be employed on the Continent of Europe, in conjunction with the troops of his Majesty's allies.

BANKRUPTS.

Mary Burbridge, of Sheerness, Kent, Shopkeeper.—John Pascoe, late third officer of the East India ship Sir Stephen Lushington, Merchant.—George Phelps, late of Brecon, Worcestershire, Fellmonger.—William Watts, of Whitehaven, Cumberland, Sadler.

"This Gazette also contains an order in Council, that the embargo laid by his Majesty upon all ships and vessels within the ports of this kingdom, bound to any of the ports of the territories of the Grand Duke of Tuscany, be taken off."

LONDON, September 10.

It appears now that the attacks of the French in Switzerland and Italy were intended to take place at the same time, and that their operations were combined in such a manner, that Gen. Massena and Joubert might, by advancing at the same time, assist each other, and form a junction with Championet, and thus, if possible, draw the Archduke from his position in Italy. This plan has now suddenly been frustrated, by the grand victory of the Allies in Italy. Soon after the French in Switzerland were informed of Joubert's defeat, they began to withdraw from different places to which they had advanced. The division under General Lecourb, consisting of 18,000 men, had, with much difficulty, collected provisions for a fortnight. General Jellachich had not half that number of troops; but General Hotze has now joined him with 25,000 men, and the fear of being cut off has induced the French to withdraw from the Grison country.

A very extraordinary circumstance happened on Friday last. The —— transport, Capt. Hartley, employed in the Ordnance service, was attacked at one o'clock on Friday morning off Folkstone, by a French privateer, and taken.—The Captain was put on board the privateer; but the transport is since re-taken by two brave seamen who were left on board. Seven Frenchmen were on board at the time, two of whom making resistance, were thrown overboard. The transport is since arrived in Dover harbour, and is valued at 10,000l.

Two whales were killed in the river on Saturday; one 30 feet long, the other 33. The Lord Mayor was informed of this extraordinary event.

The report of the surrender of N. Tandy, by the Senate at Hamburgh, is asserted to be untrue.

A recent periodical publication relates the following anecdote as a fact:—"At Rouen, in Normandy, a singular event lately occured. A large bill was stuck, during the night, in a conspicuous part of the city, bearing an inscription signifying—"Down with the Republic!—Live the King of France, Louis XVIII!—Woe to him who dares take down this bill!"—Such a bill, of course, attracted immediate notice; the Municipal officers were summoned; but, either pleased with the sentiments, or alarmed by the threat, each of them refused to remove it. At length, however, a man, who had been sent from Paris, to hasten and superintend the march of the conscripts, arrived, and, reproaching the citizens with their cowardice, pulled down the offensive paper. The next morning this Republican hero was found dead in his room, literally covered with wounds. In the night another bill was placed, exhibiting the same words, and repeating the same threat. The result is not known, as the person from whom this intelligence was received, immediately left the city."

TEXEL ISLAND.

The following short account of the Texel island by a Dutch author, may not be unacceptable to our Readers:—

"The Texel island, which lies not far from the most northern point of Holland, at the mouth of the Zuyder Zee, is said to have been separated in the year 1170 from the main land, by a dreadful inundation which overflowed Holland, Zealand, Friesland, and Flanders. On the 31st of July, 1653, General Monk, (afterwards Earl of Albemarle) engaged the Dutch in a naval battle near this island, in which the famous Van Tromp was killed. Twenty-six of the Dutch vessels were either burnt or destroyed, while the English lost only two. In the year 1794 the English and French formed a plan, in concert, to make themselves masters of the Texel, which would have succeeded, had not God, in a wonderful manner, caused the tide to ebb, contrary to the usual course of nature, for 12 hours, and thus their design was frustrated. The most remarkable circumstance was, that nothing of this ebb was perceived in the neighbouring places on the sea coast."

SUICIDE.—A reputable farmer, named Tucker, of Ebford, in Devon, some days since hanged himself in the Pound House. The Coroner's Jury have pronounced him to have been lunatic.

AN EQUAL LAND TAX.

THE arduous science of FINANCE never rose to such a point of perfection, nor was employed to such national advantage, as at the present æra, under the direction of Mr. Pitt.—The Land-Redemption system frames prominently in proof. This great measure has not only been productive already of much public benefit, but is likely, in the result, to induce that still more important one—an EQUALISATION of the Land Tax,—a measure often projected within the last half century, but which no former Minister had the skill to bring forward, much less to effect. Its principal difficulty, that of injustice to all purchasers of estates under an imposition of a low-rated Land Tax, was readily conceived by Mr. Pitt; but whole comprehensive mind as readily conceived a means to obviate it—and then, too, on such strong grounds of reason and justice, as, while the measure conduced to the interests of the State, should not leave room for any individual complaint whatever.

On this fair principal the Minister introduced, near eighteen months since, the Land Tax Redemption Bill into Parliament. It soon passed, and has been renewed from time to time; and, at this moment, contracts are issued by the commissioners of various districts, in order to afford every land proprietor, under an easy-rated Land Tax, an opportunity to redeem it. It much behoves, therefore, all such as have not yet embraced the liberal offer, to look well to the consequences, should they delay redemption to the meeting of Parliament—when instead of a nominal four shilling rate, they may have a real one to pay. This is no idle nor unfounded report; for it is no less confidently than publicly spoken of in ministerial circles, that it is the Minister's firm intent to equalise all such Land Tax as shall be found unredeemed, or at least uncontracted for on the latter end of next month. Nay, official information goes so far as to say, that the measure, from the present returns of unredeemed Land Tax, will produce six millions per annum to the revenue, to be employed towards a further reduction of the national debt, an object nearest to the Minister's heart. And what reason can be urged, why the Minister should not take an advantage of the neglect of land proprietors to redeem, after such warnings given them, and such repeated extensions of the act, not to let slip the golden opportunity.

From the present fair price of the funds, an advantageous redemption may yet be made—which should be done, before the remaining small part of the new loan now in circulation becomes totally absorbed in the van-line of next month's dividends (to the amount of near five millions)—a matter that must necessarily tend to a further rise in the funds, and of course render the bargain less advantageous to those who may wish to redeem.—In a word—if land proprietors are so blind as not to perceive that, by redeeming, or at least contracting for the redemption of a nominal four shilling rate Land Tax, they lay hands on a Land Tax to that amount, of full as great an animadversion would be useless, and they richly merit that equalization of Land Tax which is now in contemplation.

Whoever happens to be the best Bidder for the Tolls at each respective Gate, must at the same Time give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Road, for the due Payment of the respective Rents agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

And Notice is hereby further given, That new Trustees will be elected in the room of such Trustees as are dead, and whose Vacancies are not already filled up.

ROBERT WESTON,
Clerk to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Road.

Dated the 3d Day of September, 1799.

SPRING and AUTUMN.

A SWEETENER of the BLOOD, at these Seasons of the Year, has ever been deemed necessary; that it generally proves a Preventative against epidemic and fatal Diseases, we have the Experience of preceding Ages, and it is even recommended by the Faculty as a wife precautionary Custom; the Advantages therefore of DE VELNO'S VEGETABLE PILLS, on Account of their Convenience, Safety, Pleasantness of Operation, and Efficacy, must be self-evident to every Person whose Eyes are not blinded with Prejudice. They prove the most powerful Alterative, Purifier, and Sweetener of the Blood, ever yet discovered, and may be confidently relied on as the most safe and certain Remedy for the SCURVY, Scrofula or King's Evil, Scorbutic Eruptions, Leprosy, and other Disorders arising from an impure or impaired State of the Blood; which also particularly entitled to the Notice of Invalids, from their peculiar Safety and Utility during the Practice of SEA BATHING, for few if any other Medicines can be taken during that Period even with Safety, whilst the Operation of DE VELNO'S VEGETABLE PILLS is really improved by it. A Variety of Proofs of their Efficacy, from People of Respectability and Character, are constantly published in the London Evening Papers, the Sun, Star, and Courier; these must naturally be supposed to have their due Weight, and dispersede the Necessity of any further Comment from the Proprietor; yet he presumes to assert, that the real Merits of this Vegetable Preparation will, on a fair Trial, plead more forcibly in its own Recommendation, than any Thing which can be said of it.

Prepared, and sold Wholesale and Retail, by the sole Proprietor, J. PIDDUCK, late Surgeon in the Army, at his Warehouse, No. 76, Oxford Street, London.

Medicine Venders in the Country can only be supplied, with the usual Allowance, by Mr. B. SHAW, No. 74, High Street, Borough.

Sold also Retail, in Boxes, at 5s. 5d. or the Quantity of Five Boxes in One, at 1l. 2s. Duty included, at Oxford, by Mrs. Jones, at the Printing Office, High Street; Marlborough, A. and E. Harold; Reading, Smart and Co. and the principal Medicine Venders in every Town in the Kingdom.

☞ Observe, none can possibly be genuine, wherever or by whomsoever sold, unless the Bill of Direction is signed with RICHARD, by the sole Proprietor, Mr. Piddock, Surgeon, No. 76, Oxford Street, London.
