Sanday's Post.

A ship of war has arrived from the Baltic, by which Government has received dispatches from Adairal Martin at Riga, on the 13th uit. The besieging army has been augmented to 40,000 men by the arrival of Marshal Victor (the Duke of Belluno), who has taken the command, he being senior to Marshal Macdonald. The battering train has at length come up. The besiegers had broken ground, and were cannonading the town, but with no great effect, as the British and Russian flotilla of gunboats and men of war kept up a most tremendous fire in return, which had repeatedly dispersed the working parties of the enemy.

A geatleman who recently left Riga says, that the most determined spirit of resistance is exhibited by the inhabitants and the garrison. Gen. Esson, the Governor, is respected and beloved by all ranks; and by the military he is regarded as a second father.

A Russian Bulletin, dated the 5th inst. is said to have been received in town, which states, that an action had taken place between Prince Bagration's corps and the advanced guard of the French, commanded by the Viceroy of Italy, Eugene Beauharnois, in which the latter is said to have been defeated, with the loss of 5000 prisoiders, 20 pieces of cannon taken, and the French, commanded by the Viceroy of Italy, Eugene Beauharnois, in which the latter is said to have been defeated, with the loss of 5000 prisoiders, 20 pieces of cannon taken, and the French commander wommended.

The junction between the army of Prince Bagration and the main Russian army, which was acting against the Turks, are now returning to join the Russian Grand Army.

The intelligence from the Eastern part of Spain, is less favourable than might have been expected. From some unaccounted for motive, the expedition from Sicily has been delayed; consequently; Lord Wellington has, not experienced that important co-operation, on the strength of whick, it is presumed, he pushed forwards of rin a North-easterly direction. The latest accounts stated the expedition to be lying at Mahou, waiting for or hawever, represented this gallant Officer to be out of danger.

The eight troops of Life Guards ordered for foreign service, will not march for firee weeks or a month to come. The new appointments for the men cannot be completed till that period. The Prince Regent, after the late review of his own regiment, had the officers called to him by sound of triumpet, when he expressed to them his thanks for the very high state of discipline the regiment was in, and informed them it was the last time he should appear at their head. A Morning Paper says, "It is whispered among the trele of Lord Stamouth's friends, with what foundation we do not pretend to have ascertained, that the Noble Viscouth has withdrawn his opposition to the concession of the Catholic Claims; or that he has resolved, at fleat, to throw no impediment in the way of a full, free, and unbiassed discussion of that important question. Under that impression the Noble Viscount is stated, as Secretary of State for the Hone Department, to have recently transmitted instructions to the Lord Liceutenant of Ireland, laying it down as a rule, that the cause of the Catholics should be allowed to Ireland, laying it down as a rule, that the tenor of the instructions sent over to the Duke of Richmont, has been communicated to some warm friends of the Catholics in this country." Nothing decisive is known with respect to America. Mensenger, left Anglumerica. Mensenger, l

French papers to the 23d inst. have been received, which contain the following Bulletin; TWELFITH BULLETIN OF THE GRAND ARMY.
As the bride of the Driss, the Williams, a distinguished officer of the light troops, was killed; tender get-raits were wounded; four Colonds were killed.
Gen. Ricard, with his brigade, entered Dunaburg the tof August. He found a just, four Colonds were killed. Gen. Ricard, with his brigade, entered Dunaburg that of August. He found a just has been of Terentum also arrived there on the 2d.—Thus Dunaburg, that the camp had been fortilying for five years, where he has expended several millions, which cost him more than 20,000 and during the bloom; nor the cost of the property of the prop minutes, and the the intremched camp which he land on the Drisss.

In consequence of the taking of Dumbourg, his Majesty his ordered, that a park of 100 pieces of urillery, which he had advanced upon the pieces of urillery, which he had advanced upon the pieces of urillery, which he had advanced upon the pieces of urillery, which he had advanced upon the pieces of urillery, had been prepared, one against Dumbourg, the other contention that of the campaign, two bettering has of artillery had been prepared, one against Riga. The magazimes of Wilepak are provisioned, the hostitals organised. These ten dars busides excessive; transly sate from the ten in trally. The harvests are superby, it appears that this extends to all Russia; last year it was bad every where. The crops will not begin to be cut before eight or ten days. His Majesty has made a green again that the district of the Duma. Every morning at six there is a grand pared, at which all the officers of the guard-appear. One of the brigades of guards, in fine condition, alternately defiles.

The Moniteur of the 21st of August co tains detailed reports from Eugene Napoleo Joachin Napoleon, the Duke of Tarentus and the Duke of Reggio, of which the following in the Funce of acaptains is a brief outline:

The first relates to the engagement of the 25th, 25th and 27th of July, in consequence of the advance upon Witepsk and states the defeat of Gen. Osterman, but without either the control of the contro arth of lays, in consequence of the advances upon Witepals, and states the defeat of Gon. Orerman, but without either mentioning their own or opponents loss. The second from Jonchim Napoleon, drant 5 Maleszoos, the 1st of Contenting, and the state of the contenting of the contentin cause of the Catholice should be allowed to take its own course, whoshstructed by any interruption or impediment on the part of the Irish Government. It is moreover asserted, that the tenor of the instructions sent over to the Duke of Richmond, has been commentated to some warm friends of the Catholics in this country."

Nothing decisive is known with respect to America. Mr. Shaw, the Messenger, felt Annapolis, in the Bloodhound sloop, on the 26th bit, but at that time the Gleamer had not reached her destination, nor was our revocation of the Orders in Council known in America.

A report is in circulation, that the American Commodore Redgers, with the greater part of his squadoon, has been captured by Admiral Sawyer, after a severe action.

It appears by a statement rend on Wednesday morning at the Jamaica coffee-house, that the report of five Jamaica ships having fallen into the hands of the Americans, is incorrect. The whole of the ships that sailed from Jamaica on the list of July have arrived, with the exception of the London, Fraser.

Tharsday application was made at the Alien Office, for passports to permit some of the American subjects, who lately came over from France passengers in the Mary Ann, to proceed direct to America. The answer returned was, that orders had been sent down to the ship to define the American subjects, who lately came over from France passengers in the Mary Ann, to proceed direct to America. The answer returned was, that orders had been sent down to the ship to define the American subjects, who lately came over from France passengers in the Mary Ann, to proceed direct to America. The answer returned was, that orders had been sent down to the ship to detain them tell further orders.

The Swiftsure packet has received orders to sail from Falmouth, for America, with a Flag of Truce: in consequence of which the finals on Friday experienced a considerable rise.

Thursday High Mass was performed at the Portuguese Ambassador's Chapel, in South Andley-street, in honour of the victory of Salamanca. After the performance, all the Secretaries of State, Foreign Ministers, and Portuguese Gentlemen of rank, were hospitably received by his Excellency the Count de Funchai, to a splendid dejeane.

Tuesday morning, at two o'clock, an alarming fire broke out at Mr. Holland's, tallow-chandler, in South Audley-street, Grosvenorsquare. It began in the back melting warehouse, in Reeves's Mews, and three of the adjoining stables were soon burnt to the ground. There were nearly 400 tons of tallow on the premises, all of which were consumed, and of course added greatly to the fury of the flames. Fifty chaldron of coals, belonging to a retail dealer in that article, were also consumed.—The following are some of the houses which havebeen destroyed or damaged on this o'ccasion: That of Messrs. Stodart and Bolton, coachmakers, the carriages all saved; the house of Madame Jaymond, milliner, has ustained much damage; that of Mr. Parsons, baker, Mountstreet, burnt, and a quantity of flour; Mr. Tcby's stables, and Mr. Butcher's slaughter-houses, in Reeves's News, totally consumed.—Green Room report puts Mrs. Jordan at the head of the strong brigade which the Drugylane Managers Paye gurolled for the vigorous service of their opening campaign.
