THE PROVINCES.

PAISLEY—THEATRE (P., B. H. Bostock; M., Harry Pinchon).—A capital bill is presented here. Como, in the premier position, is popular as a "confusionist"; and Brinn and his Funny Sailor are to be complimented. The Bell Boys and Bingham, Harding and Sis, Saw and Betty Auskland, Monty McVean, Walter Roy, Watson Hume and company in "Flora," and David Stewart, tenor, also appear.

REDDITCH—PALACE (R.M., Wm. Howgate).—F. Lister Morton and Guyton Heath's "The Arcadians" is well received. Much merriment is caused by E. Stratton Miles as Smith and Arthur Pearson portrays Jack Meadows with success. As Peter Boody William Rokeby does well, while Edward Kipling as Sir George Paddock is admirable. Dorothy Westall plays Sambra with great popular success, and Georgina Yokes is also applauded in a leading part. Good, too, is Norah Walker as Mrs. Smith, whilst Nora Walker as Ellen Cavanagh is well applauded for her efforts.

PUBLIC HALL (R.M., E. Moule).—Good business is done here with pictures.

BOOTS The Chemists, 3, Evesham Street.

SALFORD—ROYAL HIPPODROME (P., W. H. Broadhead and Son; M., Fred Bernado).—Arthur Rosebery and Gerard Burke's company present the naval play, "The Silent Watch." Norman Leyland plays cleverly as Vice-Admiral Hope, and Betty Gale does well as Clara Hope. Cole Aspinale is good as Vice-Admiral Blake, and Edgar Milton is a smart Commodore Stern. Others are Jackson Hayes (Admiral Schroder) and Ernest Verrol (Carl Dot).

PALACE (P., The Salford Palace, Ltd.; M.D., Alan W. Young; R.M., R. S. Evanson).—The Two Odolls, gymnasts, are very smart; and the Great Raymond, the illusionist, is exceedingly mystifying in new and varied tricks. One of the scenes, "A Trip to Spookville," causes great merriment. May Levey, male impersonator, is well received, while Hanbury and Schofield, in "His Last Night Out," afe very laughable. Rosie Boys, contralto, is popular.

BOOTS The Chemists, 91, Regent Road; 404, Regent Road; 277, Chapel Street.

SHEFFIELD—LYCEUM (G.M., J. E. B. Beaumont).—Arthur Bourchier's company in "Scandal" are paying a return visit, and drawing good houses. Thelma Raye gives a delightful picture of the charming Beatrice, while A. E. Winnington-Barnes makes a virile Pelham Franklin. A particularly clever performance of the sherewish Honoria is given by Lucy Sibley.

ROYAL (G.M., J. E. B. Beaumont; A.M., Maurice Mahoney).—E. Hilchelson's company are playing "Ashamed of the Man She Married."

EMPIRE (M., R. Sidebotham).—Victoria Monks, in her "Extra Turn" sketch, is a warm favorite. The programme also includes the Golda-Fenville Quartet in their musical contributions; Audrey Knight, in various character studies; the Five Whartons, in an acrobatic turn; the Gladiators, Jim Nolan, and Fred Rex and company in a farcical sketch.

HIPPODROME (M., H. C. Savage).—The principal attraction here is supplied by Tom Edwards, the comedian-ventriloquist, assisted by Alice Melville. Other turns are by Jay Whidden, with his fiddle; the Royal Southern Syncopated Singers; Dan Leno, junr., a Sheffield favorite since his Royal pantomime success; Will Collinson and company in a burlesque, "Sweeping a Chimney"; Alice Holsader, the Australian singer; Joe and Willy, acrobats; and Maurice, card manipulator.

BOOTS The Chemists, 55 and 57, Snig Hill; 232-4, West Street, and 2, Regent Street; 599, Attercliffe Road; 7, Netherthorpe Place; 97, South Street; 24, 26, Spital Hill; 264, Shalesmoor; 180, Attercliffe Common; 780-2-4, Attercliffe Road; 440, Abbeydale Road; 207, Broomhall Street; 6, High Street; 2-4, Duke St. Park; 204-18, London Road; Heeley Bridge; 202, South Street Moor; 632, Staniforth Road, Darnall; 129, Newbould Lane, Broomhill; 5-5, Middle Road, Hillsborough; 212, London Road.

SOUTHAMPTON GRAND (P., David Allen and Sons; L., M.S. Gertrude Mouillot; R.M., Arthur Weston).—Frederick G. Lloyd's company are delighting large audiences here with the comic operas "Dorothy," "La Cigale," "Les Cloches de Corneville," "Dorothy" was presented on Monday, and "La Cigale" was staged on Tuesday, and is to be repeated to-night (Thursday), whilst "Les Cloches de Corneville" had a great reception at yesterday's (Wednesday) matinée. In "Dorothy" the part of Dorothy Bantany was admirably taken by Vera Lowe; Lydia Hawthorne was in the capable hands of Gwladys Newth, Lurcher was played by Bert Monks; Squire Bantam, by J. Anthony; Geoffrey Wilder, by Alan Johnstone; Harry Sherwood, by Ian MacRobert; and Mrs. Privitt, by Ruth Alcott.

PALACE.—The principal attraction here is provided by A. D. Robbins and company, the "Canadian Cycle Tamers," who are well received. Excellent turns are also given by the Hand Brothers and Ryan, Arthur Astill, E. J. Moore, Neville Delmar (an up-to-date comedian), Ian Colquhoun, and Yoga (the Indian mystic entertainer).

HIPPODROME.—Ethel Levey, the well-known revue artist, is giving selections from her repertory during this week. She has a splendid reception at each house. Excellent entertainment is also forthcoming from Mayne and Sheridan (the "wise jesters"), James Edison (who juggles with skill), the Three De Havilands, Koblick, George Jackley (the burlesque comedian), and Horace Ainsley (entertainer).

BOOTS The Chemists, 84, High St., Shirley; 97, East Street; 25, Above Bar; 103, St. Mary's St.; 107, Shirley Rd.; 29, London Rd.; 155, Vevois Hill.

SOUTHEND — HIPPODROME (M.D., Craig Gulliver; R.M., Geo. E. Thompson).—"Hullo! America," proves one of the best revues seen here, also one of the funniest, thanks to Mark Lupino, a real comedian, and Dan Taylor, who is a good and versatile leading lady. Some able work is done by Alec Regan, Doris Creina, Dick Bodger, Geo. Dillon, Molly Carter, and Theodore Cass help in a capital entertainment.

WESTCLIFF PALACE (P. and M.D., Gertrude Mouillot; R.M., Florence Dean). —"By Pigeon Post" makes a third visit to this town, and still draws well. Arthur Rigby's company are good, particularly Alfred Gray, playing Captain Chalfont, C. Haviland Burke the General, Garrett Hollick the Major, and Chas. Poulton as Lachen, with Queenie Finnis, Tommie Butler, Reginald J. Turner, Marion Berresford, and Ernest Gerling supporting.

BOOTS The Chemists, 112, High Street.

SOUTHPORT—OPERA HOUSE (P., Southport Winter Gardens Co., Ltd.).—"Baddiia" meets with unqualified success here. George Howard gives a very capable performance of the surly James Crocker; and in the hands of Charlton Mortcut Roberts Audrey is well presented. O. Leverson, as Henry Allen, is admirable. Geo. McCloskie and A. Rightly are excellent as Walters and Rivers, and Adah Barten is good as Mrs. Audrey. Mercia Reade is a charming though petulant Bobette.

PALACE (M.D., D. J. Clarke; A.M., S. Singleton).—The Ten Tintitots are warm favourites here. Hedge Brothers and Jacobson are bright and breezy, while Boy Ronald is a clever juggler. Thornley Dodge does well; and Charles Rasrae and his Devil May-Cares are first-class handbalancers. Wilbur and Rose are expert banjoists, and Violet Levy is a successful comedienne.

PAVILION (L., G. W. Bell; A.M., J. Thomson).—Ada Reeve presents a fresh Charm in "Passing Clouds," with special features by George Hirst.

BOOTS The Chemists, 26, Chapel Street; 393, 397, Ivor Street.

SPENNYMOOR—CAMBRIDGE (L. and M., H. Medrington).—R. and W. Ainsley present the revue, "The Movie Maid." The cast includes Elsie Maynard, Madel Graham, Doris Hall, Dorothy and Victor, the Winshans, Walter Aubrey, Kay Tempest, George Doonan, Harry Liston, and Billy Blackburn.

ST. HELENS—ROYAL (G.M., R. E. Johnson).—Music lovers hail the visit of the Carl Rosa Opera Company, who open their season with the ever-popular "The Bohemian Girl" was presented, when Evelyn Bailey was highly successful as Arline. Esther Yunson won golden opinions as the Gipsy Queen, and Furness Williams has a fine tenor, which he used to great advantage in the part of Thaddeus. Herbert Dunkerley, as Count Arnheim, left little to be desired; while William Anderson's Devilshoop, and Alphonso McCarthy's Florestein were capital. "Tales of Hoffmann" brought a crowded house in the evening, and Furness Williams, as Hoffmann, was warmly applauded. Alma Vane's clever portrayal of the doll, Olympia, was a big success. Gladys Seagar, as Giuletta, sang with great taste, and Leyn James was clever as Coppolius, as was also William Minette as Spalanzani. Other operas to be played are "Carmen," "Romeo and Juliet," "Rigoletto," "Mignon," and "Il Trovatore."

STOCKTON-ON-TEES—GRAND (M., Walter Batty).—Chas. E. Clarke's company are presenting successfully "Hell-i, Blackpool" this week. Included in the company are Charles Regan, Bert H. Thomas, Florence Eden, Jessie Jess, Colman Irving, Doris Vi Driscoll, the Three Aces, and Harry Lyons. Gilbert Gordon Graham is the musical director.

HIPPODROME (S., Geo. Stainton; M., Harry B. Metcalfe).—Included in the entertaining programme here are Alex Mee and company in a laughable sketch, "At Ten o'Clock To-morrow"; Leslie Race, the Sir Heraldos, acrobats; Hilda Mostyn; Arthur Croxon; Cara Magda, gymnast; Gleardo, juggler; and Those Four Kids, whose vocal items gain much favour.

BOOTS The Chemists, 104-6, High Street.

STOKE-ON-TRENT—VICTORIA (M., L. Hodgkinson).—Linton and Vince, in concertina and piano items, are successful. Arthur Leslie is an amusing entertainer.

BOOTS The Chemists, 5, Church Street.

STOURBRIDGE—ALHAMBRA (P. and M., Douglas C. Phelps; A.M., John Phelps).—A. and A.M., Chris G. Shaw).—"Scarlet Runners," presented by Chris Baker, is attracting big audiences. Chris Baker, who undertakes the part of Tinker, is popular. Percy King is good as A. Writer, and Hay Friend is well acted by Arthur Clifton. Billie Rosen and Jack Edwin ably sustain the parts of Lord Basil and Buttons. Olive Aubrey as Bonny, Elsie Moreton as Lola, Myrtle Barker as Myrtle, Molly Villiers as Gwendoline, and Bertha Gray as Phœbe, are good in their respective parts.

VICTORIA (L. and M., Jack Arnold).—Harry Wallace is here with the musical comedy, "On a Level." Alma Martell, May Sansome, the Angus Mcdonald Quartette, and Peg
