

Fred Paul is well satisfied with the progress he has made during a fortnight's good work on the second British Standard production, "Uncle Dick's Darling," adapted by R. Byron-Webber from the play by H. J. Byron. Mr. Paul believes that he has made a valuable discovery in Miss Athalie Davis, who is playing the difficult rôle of Mary, the protégée and "darling" of Uncle Dick, a large-hearted cheap-jack. Mary leaves a travelling caravan for school, and then becomes involved in matrimonial difficulties, which add to the demand on the versatile powers of the actress.

George Bellamy plays Uncle Dick, and Humberstone Wright is responsible for the part of Mr. Chevenix, which was originally played by Sir Henry Irving. The cast also includes Violet Bebbington, Ronald Power, Frank Dane, and Sidney Folker.
