IMPERATIVE NECESSITY FOR GIVING REGULAR ORDERS.

We make no apology to the hundreds of people who were unable to obtain a "Herald" last Saturday. For two successive weeks we have expressly warned them that they must ORDER the "Herald" if they want to make sure of getting it.

Innumerable complaints have been received from people who say they have bought the "Herald" regularly for years and never missed getting it before. That they failed to get supplied last Saturday was the result of their own neglect to give orders to their newsagents, who, of course, having sent out or reserved their ordered copies, sold the remainder to first concers.

We have made it quite clear that we cannot, in the

We have made it quite clear that we cannot, in the present state of the paper market, print papers for speculative sales. We are compelled to print according to the known demand.
