

NORTH LONDON COLLEGE OF MUSIC, For High-Class Musical Education.

Comments and Miscellany.

The statement that was made in one of the morning papers last week about Mr. Bodkin was not wholly correct. It is not true that the Board of Magistrates...

will entice the people to all prominent public buildings. The neighbourhood has grown so rapidly of late that it will be necessary to build a church on the splendid site...

down to table in the handsome hall of the Camden Athenaeum, and while they were so engaged, the choir of young men were able to enjoy the strains of an excellent band...

WEST HORN SACRED CONCERT. On Monday evening at Christ Church Hall, West Hornsey, a sacred concert was given by the members of the choir...

Mr. Lough, the member for West Islington, has a world of sympathy for the sub-driver, and it is to be feared that his judgment is somewhat warped by the feeling that his part against the public...

Among the speakers who also entertained and instructed the company, perhaps the most prominent was our worthy curate, Mr. C. Middleton. The head centre of the Conservative organization is not often heard in North London...

In two courts before Messrs. J. Glover, J. C. Berdell, H. T. Gabon, W. Reynolds, C. F. the members of the High School, and Mr. D. Napier. The High School was presided over by Mr. W. C. Turner...

question the policy of the Board? My view is that it is different. It is the duty of every manager of a school, and especially the chairman, to see that the instructions of the Board are fully carried out...

There is no disputing the greater freedom and greater safety of the main streets which the car regulations have been in force for some months may be said to be the condition of the side thoroughfares into which they have been thrust...

I would warn the public, ladies especially, against the street traffic in the neighbourhood. It is a gang of hooligans who frequent the Park when the police have for some time been absent, and who are not afraid to obtain evidence against them...

It is asserted that the contract was not carried out in a shameful way, and contended that the full penalty should be imposed. A very high authority has been quoted to the effect that the contractor has himself been interested in the contract...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

Of course the Park constables were seen on the 10th in the company of a gang of from 20 to 30 youths or young men whose conduct has been noted as disgraceful in no means the first robbery that has been committed in the Park...

The article in the "Journal" has been read by Mr. Stevenson's essay on "Beggars," which is a very interesting and valuable study of the life of the beggars in London...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

The atmosphere of the Vestry Hall on Friday was bitter and cold. Some of the members who had been in the habit of attending the Vestry were not there...

The article in the "Journal" has been read by Mr. Stevenson's essay on "Beggars," which is a very interesting and valuable study of the life of the beggars in London...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

What is there to show for all this money? Those who are responsible for the enormous increase of expenditure appear to have no answer to the question...

The article in the "Journal" has been read by Mr. Stevenson's essay on "Beggars," which is a very interesting and valuable study of the life of the beggars in London...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

The article in the "Journal" has been read by Mr. Stevenson's essay on "Beggars," which is a very interesting and valuable study of the life of the beggars in London...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

The article in the "Journal" has been read by Mr. Stevenson's essay on "Beggars," which is a very interesting and valuable study of the life of the beggars in London...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

The article in the "Journal" has been read by Mr. Stevenson's essay on "Beggars," which is a very interesting and valuable study of the life of the beggars in London...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...

It is also contended that the contractor is not surprising that the collection of dust in Tottenham is not all that could be desired, or that the contractor is not as happy as the taxpayer...