Explaining the circumstances, the applicant said that the Army had just taken up a position below "his" house, and had only been there about five minutes when he came out and asked them to go away. The applicant told him that if he did not want the Army perhaps there were others in the road you also were wrong in not going away when asked to. I abould imagine General Hooth and his Army ought to know this by this time. Ald, Huggett also told the applicant he had already had to fine members of the Army for not going away when asked, and that no matter how many wanted the "Army," if there was one who did not want it in that
